

Max Schlesinger SAUNTERINGS IN AND ABOUT LONDON

a LibriVox recording

read by David Wales

Saunterings In and About London

Saunterings In and About London

Max Schlesinger

translated by Otto von Wenckstern

A witty 1853 travelogue by a cultured German for his countrymen. "...for I did not write for an English public, nor did I ever pretend to popularity in England. The "SAUNTERINGS" were intended for the profit and amusement of my German countrymen; and I must say I was not a little pleased and surprised with the very flattering reception which my book experienced at the hands of the English critics. Their favourable opinion, which they so emphatically and—I am selfish enough to go the whole length of the word—so ably expressed, has probably caused the production of the book in an English dress." (from the Preface)

Running time 11:54:48

Read by David Wales

Cover design by Kathryn Delaney
19th century view of Snow Hill, Holburn, London

This recording and CD cover are in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information, or to volunteer, visit librivox.org.

Max Schlesinger

Saunterings In and About London

Max Schlesinger